

Land use training

By Patti Crane

WCIA provides multiple training resources for educating councils, boards, and planning commissions on land use. We partner with five municipal associations and offer WCIA Members reimbursement for select programs.

WCIA Land Use Liability Prevention Training - Onsite Training

The WCIA Land Use Liability Prevention Training addresses member-specific risk exposures associated with land use decision making. Topics covered in the training are a primer on process, roles and responsibilities, producing a defensible position and managing risks as a policymaker. This training can be tailored to fit a member's specific needs.

This training is part of our "Exclusive" Training programs, which are cost shared with members. If you are interested, please contact WCIA Member Services Coordinator Maria Orozco

Partnering Associations and Eligible Reimbursement Programs

1. International Code Council (ICC) - Permit Technician Certification
2. Planning Association of WA (PAW) - Land Use Boot Camps and Sign Code Trainings
3. WA Department of Commerce (COM) - A Short Course on Local Planning
4. WA Association of Building Officials (WABO) - Annual Education Institute
5. WA State Association of Permit Technicians (WSAPT) - WA State Permit Technician Certification - Spring & Fall Conferences

Once the selected course is completed, you can request reimbursement by visiting our website wciapool.org, click on Training and Education, and then select Training Reimbursements. For questions about reimbursement, contact Member Services.
